HITLER FINDS HIMSELF OPPOSED BY ALL THE DEMOCRACIES IN HIS INSANE PLAN TO RULE THE WORLD; HIS HATRED SHOWS

Fuehrer, in Interview with American Writer During November, Tells of His Realization Long Ago That Roosevelt Was "Meddling in European Affairs"—Servants Not at Ease in His Presence

(Note: Yesterday Pierre J. Huxs, for eight years chief Berlin correspondent of International News Service, presented the first of three installments of an exclusive interview given him on the eastern front a few weeks ago by Adolf Hitler.)

(In it, he disclosed for the first time that Hitler is fearful of President Roosevelt and the United States, described dramatically how the Fuehrer is preoccupied with the appalling likelihood that he has visited destruction instead of victory upon Germany and disposed of the childish story that Hitler "cleaves rugs" when he is angry.)

(Today Huxs continues this extraordinary close-up, underscored by his own direct quotations, of the man who now finds himself opposed by all the democracies in his insane plan to rule the world.)

By PIERRE J. HUXS, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1941. Reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 30—"Ja, Herr Roosevelt — and his Jews!"

The now-scowling Hitler added this as an afterthought. He seemed to be talking to himself, forgetful of the American at his side and brooding over the man he hated.

"He wants to run the world and rob us all of a place in the sun. He says he wants to save England but he means he wants to be ruler and heir of the British Empire."

"I first saw this some years ago, when Roosevelt began his undeclared war on me through speeches, boycotts, and political intriguing in all chancelleries of Europe. Every time I reached forth my hand he slapped it down. When I began to show him that meddling in European affairs was not so easy and might be dangerous, he lost all control of himself and began his campaign of vilification."

"With his Bullits and Biddles he pushed Europe into the war against me, not to save and preserve the obsolete democracies, but to despoil the youth and the strength of the nations of the world in order to enslave them in plans of his own."

"I have realized all this long ago and I knew too that the sabotage of Munich was arranged as much if not more in your Washington than in London. All that year before the war I saw the hand of Roosevelt in everything over here that went on, and it seemed at times that even the British were merely acting as the tools of another man."

"When the war came, I felt that peace and common sense were not yet lost and therefore stood back time and again blinded by Roosevelt and his golden calf. He wanted the war to go on, and bring misery and destruction to the German people."

A cold rain mixed with a bit of sleet had begun despite the patches of sunlight peering out of fast-driving clouds. We reached the glass door leading into the central house of Fuehrer headquarters that looked not unlike a comfortable hunting lodge. Inside the small hall with its mounted deer heads, flanked by booted black pants and white coats without ornament took our things and deferentially stepped aside. So did everybody else around that house, giving up the uncomfortable feeling that none but the Fuehrer should be heard or seen, lest perhaps a blitz of unreasoned temper and authority hit the man nearest this volcano. That has happened time and again, coming and going with the destructive and startling force of a whirlwind.

Hitler walked into the plainly furnished reception room with its little round table surrounded by easy chairs and a sofa. The whole was the familiar reproduction in miniature of Hitler's personal style in reception rooms and chancelleries, at Munich and Berlin and Berchtesgaden, all slightly on the stiff side with a restrained reach for the dignified.

A fire of split logs blazed cheerily on the earth. A shepherd dog with a swastika collar strolled lazily up to Hitler and nuzzled his hand. He

CUSTODIANS OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS FINISH COURSE

25 Given Certificates of Attainment in "Problems of Custodial Duties"

COMMENDED BY SUP'T

Joint graduation exercises culminated two school building custodian courses at Lower Makefield School last week, when 25 school janitors received certificates of attainment in "Problems of Custodial Duties."

R. Chapman Carver, assistant principal of the Public Service Institute of the Department of Public Instruction, was present to make the presentation of certificates, and address the custodians.

County superintendent Charles Boehm also spoke briefly, commending the custodians for their interest and desire to be of greater assistance to their school boards. He also asked all of them to take their positions in their respective school buildings during any air raid alarms at night as well as in the daytime.

Albert Morris, Langhorne, described the Department of Health program with respect to school sanitation inspection.

Warren Elville, Doylestown, and Herman Westerman, Lower Makefield, were the instructors of the courses. Mr. Elville conducted his class at Newtown and Mr. Westerman at Bristol.

The following custodians received their certificates:

Raymond R. Bunting and Warren Green Lear, Morrisville; A. B. Bowman and Frank Parsons, Falls township; Charles Duerr, Lower Makefield; Robert Ferguson, Maurice Roche, James Roche, Angus Gillies, Joseph Burton, Alva Gosline and Adam Smith, Bristol borough; Frank Barnes, William J. English, Harvey Shaw and Edward Moore, Bristol township; Wilford Childs, Doylestown township; Milton Crosdale, Feasterville; Clarence Gouley, Newtown borough; Martin Reffern, O. H. Johnson and Amos Markley, Langhorne borough; William Schofield, Morrisville borough; Clarence Wiley, Solebury township; and Frank Worthington, Richboro.

Manhattan Sales Division Managers Inspect Plant

Forty-one sales division managers, connected with Manhattan Soap Company, and coming from all parts of the United States, yesterday attended a sales meeting at the local plant of the company, this being part of the sales convention program being held this week at the New York offices of the firm.

The plant visitation was thoroughly enjoyable, the sales managers participating in a production conference and also inspecting the buildings. They were favorably impressed with the modern production facilities of the firm's Bristol plant.

Among the company executives present for the occasion were president, Oscar Burke; and vice president, Frank Burke.

Luncheon was served to the men, who left late in the afternoon for New York to continue the conference.

The sales division managers came from points as far away as the Pacific Coast, Texas, Florida, Maine, some travelling by train, others by automobile and airplane.

RETURNS FROM WAR ZONE

Frederick Kring, Jr., returned to the home of his parents on Pond street after completing an assignment of engineering work in Roumania. He started on his homeward trip the latter part of September. With the Mediterranean and the southern continental routes practically closed to civilian traffic, Mr. Kring decided on the round-about route overland through Bulgaria, Turkey, Syria and Egypt, to Cairo, finding steamer passage from Suez via the east coast of Africa to Capetown. At the latter port he secured passage for the United States, landing at Boston on December 23rd. A trip which ordinarily could have been made within three weeks, thus required as many months. While the trip proved exciting in some respects, more especially in traversing the Suez Canal and the Red Sea under war conditions, the Bristol man terms the trip, as a whole, uneventful.

REQUESTED NOT TO BLOW WHISTLES OR RING BELLS

TO OWNERS AND MANAGEMENT OF INDUSTRIAL PLANTS, AND FIRE COMPANIES:

It has been deemed advisable, owing to the existing conditions, that the blowing of whistles and ringing of bells as a welcoming or greeting to the New Year be dispensed with this year.

Any unusual or extraordinary blowing of whistles or ringing of bells such as might be construed as an alarm or a warning to the public of an approaching air raid might tend to create fear in the minds of the public and perhaps create a state of panic, and it is therefore suggested that you give explicit orders to the proper persons in your employ to prohibit the blowing of whistles or ringing of bells as a greeting to the birth of the new year; and to take every precaution against any unusual or unnecessary blowing of whistles or ringing of bells connected with your establishment or your fire department.

LINFORD J. JONES and JOHN E. HEALEY,

Air-Raid Wardens.

AIR-RAID SET-UP IN MORRISVILLE UNDERWAY

Name Volunteers To Define Posts For Defense Activities

FIRST AID CLASSES

MORRISVILLE, Dec. 30—Committee members for Morrisville air-raid set-up are announced by George W. Duke. This group is representative of Falls Township, Arborlea, Edgemoor, Westover, and Morrisville borough.

The local air-raid group has a volunteer force of some 65 men, who have volunteered their services for work in which they might be needed, such as fire fighting, first aid, post wardens, etc. Including outlying districts, the personnel of the district covered by Morrisville is much greater.

Through arrangements with Common Council, a headquarters has been set up in the Capitol View building with a new telephone, desks, filing cabinets, etc., which have been donated. A 24-hour service is being arranged for the clearance of all information, recruiting, relaying of messages, and all field work of the air-raid warden's organization. Recruits will be accepted by Chief of Police Albert Cooper, emergency police head, and Manoah R. Reiter, chief observer of the American Legion Observation Post, at the headquarters, subject to Reiter and Cooper's acceptance of the volunteers.

Arrangements with the electric company for black-out switches in the district have been completed, but under no circumstances will a local black-out be staged except on order from Chief Lake or Deputy Allen Frank Miller. The local factories are being contacted regarding safety work such as auxiliary fighting groups, evacuation of employees and black-out precautions. Assignment of block wardens to their posts will be completed shortly.

A new first-aid class has started and another class will likely be formed and started before the end of January. At present there are approximately 60 competent first-aid men and women who have taken these courses through the fire department during the past two years and since the declaration of national emergency. This figure does not include men and women from the outlying districts, for it is reported that a complete check-up would reveal well over 200 persons with this training.

The committees named by Warden Duke follow: First aid, Frank Miller, chairman; Albert Roberts and Walter Neumann; fire-fighting, Cleveland Reed, chairman; Fred Duke, Thomas Moore, Richard Allen, Joseph Rech, Jesse Kelleit and Herman Heavener; street lighting or black-outs, Edgar Smith, chairman; Frank Miller, Richard Allen, Jesse Kelleit, and John Melvin; rescue work, Red Cross disaster committee, under Coleman P. Morgan, with the warden personnel to be announced soon; highway clearance, Michael Hornyak, chairman; Joseph Leberghorn and Summer Brewer; com-

Three Nazi Planes Downed

London, Dec. 30—The Air Ministry announced today that three enemy planes were shot down during a one-hour Nazi air attack on the northeast coast. Damage and casualties were reported slight.

Soviet Forces Push Relentlessly Forward

Moscow, Dec. 30—Smashing the efforts of retreating Germans to dig in along new lines, Soviet forces kept pushing relentlessly forward today and recaptured still more towns and villages on the Russo-German front.

A new high command war bulletin said fighting continued on the entire front throughout the night.

The Red Army newspaper Red Star gave a graphic account of the "havoc" caused by Soviet parachutists behind the German lines and told how, in the darkness, they managed to set the Germans to "exterminating their own men."

Nimitz To Take Command of Pacific Fleet

Pearl Harbor, Dec. 30—A would-be Japanese invader of Hawaii slipped beneath the waves today in a weird coffin, a concrete weighted midget submarine, as Rear Admiral Chester Nimitz prepared to take charge of the Pacific Fleet in "workaday style."

American Bluejackets and Marines gave the traditional honors to the enemy dead as the Japanese, enmeshed in the small craft, was sent to the bottom of the harbor.

Admiral Nimitz tomorrow will formally take command of the Pacific Fleet, supplanting Admiral H. E. Kimmel. He has indicated that the usual ceremonies will be dispensed with.

Foresee Seaborne Thrust At Manila

Washington, Dec. 30—A seaborne thrust directly at Manila is foreseen by Washington military strategists today as an aftermath of Japan's three-hour aerial bombing of the city's coastal defenses.

The naval invasion is not expected, however, until and unless Nippon is highly successful in its onslaught from the skies.

DEFENSE COUNCIL TO ORGANIZE HERE TODAY

Group Named By Burgess Anderson Will Hear Their Duties Outlined

TO CO-ORDINATE WORK

A Bristol Defense Council is to meet today and organize in the Municipal Building. The meeting is planned to be held this morning shortly before noon at which time Mrs. Martha S. Woolley, Lahaska, is scheduled to address the group. Mrs. Woolley is executive secretary of the Bucks County Defense Council.

The Council has been named by Burgess Clifford L. Anderson, and those appointed thus far include the following: Mrs. M. D. Weagley, Louis C. Spring, Jacob C. Schmidt, Sr., Joseph P. Duffy, Herbert A. Pettit, and J. Byram Johnson. Others may be added after the organization holds preliminary meetings and gets underway.

It is presumed that at the meeting today the duties of the Council will be outlined by Mrs. Woolley and the Council will begin to function. While nothing definite has been given out for publication up to this time, it is believed that the Council will have general supervision over plans for the defense of Bristol and that all steps previously taken to defend the borough from attack, as well as to handle refugees which might flock here from nearby cities in case of attack, will be reviewed, and an attempt made to co-ordinate the efforts of the various groups.

KEEP IN TOUCH WITH DRAFT BOARD

Keep in touch with your local draft board!

This is the advice of draft officials to young men who registered under the law by which selectees are being called up for army service.

Those who registered with Bristol Board No. 1, are asked to notify the office of the board of any changes in status affecting any questions asked of them on the questionnaires they filled in.

This refers to marriages, births of children, added or decreased number of dependents, changes in residences or positions, changes in physical condition, etc.

There are to be, it is stated, changes in classifications in many instances.

In all probability some married men will be called into the service within a short time.

COUNCIL ADOPTS NEW ORDINANCE AT GOVT REQUEST

Some Minor Changes Made In Agreement for Extension of Facilities to Fleetwings Plant

AUTHORIZE BLACKOUTS

Council Gives Permission To Shut Off Street Lights If Necessity Arises

Borough Council met in special session last night and adopted a new ordinance in connection with the water and sewer facilities of the borough, which are being extended to the new plant of Fleetwings, and also took action regarding blackouts here.

The borough gave authority to the Philadelphia Electric Company, upon notification by the Air Raid Warden of Bucks County, to turn off the street lights, and requested civilian co-operation in the extinguishing of lights, and also authorized the County Air Raid Warden to order a blackout should the necessity for doing so arise. Burgess Anderson was present at the meeting and suggested the favorable action of council.

Borough Secretary William J. Leferts, read the communication received by Burgess Anderson, requesting the above authority.

Council gave consideration to a new ordinance authorizing the making of and entering into a contract or agreement between Fleetwings, Inc., acting for itself and in behalf of the Defense Plant Corporation and the Borough of Bristol, for the installation of the borough sewer and water system.

Council adopted an ordinance similar to the one of last evening in September. But by the adoption of the one last evening, the one adopted in September is rescinded.

Borough Solicitor Senator Howard I. James, was present, and informed council that while the ordinance adopted in September was very similar to the one now being considered, yet there were a few changes. The previous ordinance made the Borough and the Defense Plant Corporation, a Federal agency of the Government, parties to the agreement and it was this that the Federal Government desired to have changed. Fleetwings, Inc., acting for and on behalf of Defense Plant Corporation and Bristol Borough are now the parties to the agreement.

There were some other minor changes throughout the agreement, all of which were approved by Council.

The ordinance was read by Secretary Leferts after Burgess Anderson had called council into session. William H. H. Fine was named president pro tem in the absence of Dr. J. Fred Wagner.

Due to the fact that the ordinance being considered differed so little from the one adopted in September, it was moved that council suspend the rules and adopt the ordinance following the first reading. This motion was carried.

Councilmen absent were Wagner, Warner, Myers and Conklin.

"It Has Happened Here!" Will You Do Your Part?

By Leigh Mitchell Hodges

Nearly two weeks ago the Preparedness Committee of the Bucks County Medical Society, co-operating with the Bucks County Council of Defense, issued an "urgent" call for "immediate" contributions of certain articles needed to equip Refugee Field Stations to care for those who will rush here when the first enemy bombs fall on nearby cities.

Up to this morning there had been delivered to Moose Hall, Doylestown, in response to that plea, the following: Eight coats, 12 blankets, one couch, one box of soap, one pair crutches, one box bandages, one quilt, one crib, one iron bed.

Twenty-seven articles from the 27,000 families in Bucks County.

And in answer to an URGENT call for IMMEDIATE contributions.

What's wrong with this picture?

There's but one possible answer.

Hardly anyone is yet awake to the FACT that we're sitting on the edge of a volcano that may, AT ANY MOMENT, erupt on us great crowds of men, women and children who can't be allowed to freeze, or sickened and die.

There's not one person in the county who would want them to. But there's all the difference in the world between not wanting things to happen, and BEING READY to take care of them when they DO HAPPEN.

No one wants enemy bombs dropped on Philadelphia, Newark or New York, but it's as sure as taxes that at least a few "TNT tokens" will be dropped, and the drop may come any day now.

If they should happen to fall TOMORROW, the twenty-seven articles mentioned would help about as much as one bucket of water to float a bathtub.

The call is more urgent and immediate than ever before. Moose Hall, 127 East State street, Doylestown, should be filled to bursting within 24 hours.

In Bristol Methodist Church, this evening, the Woman's Society for Christian Service will meet, the hour set being eight o'clock.

ONCE AGAIN

So tortuous are the twists and turns of the Japanese military mind that it will probably remain impossible for any one in the United States or any other Occidental country to fathom all its crooked processes. One feature of the oblique practices of this special Oriental attitude can be counted on to remain steadfast: Japanese strategy is based on the theory that the Occidental inclination to adhere to a code of civilized conduct always can be turned to Japanese advantage.

Pearl Harbor was not the first proof of that viciousness inherent in the Japanese. Port Arthur preceded Pearl Harbor by 37 years.

In 1904 Japan opened war on Russia, 48 hours before declaring war, by torpedo attacks on Russian warships in Port Arthur. In that interim there was a ball at the imperial palace in Saint Petersburg. The Japanese ambassador, knowing the intention of Tokyo, went to that ball and got away from it before the news of the Port Arthur assault reached the Russian court. That night the ambassador recorded smugly in his diary his satisfaction over having fooled the Russians.

The parallel between Port Arthur and Pearl Harbor holds. When the slant-eyes began their attack upon the Hawaiian outpost, Korusu and Nomura were still "negotiating" with the State Department in Washington. Such perfidy engaged in by any nation over a period of years generally results in its downfall when enough scores to be settled have been created.

Japan's situation today is desperate in the extreme, with the most that she can hope for being a long war with defeat at the end. Russia has a great score to settle with Japan, and if the Reds seize this opportunity to square accounts Nippon's role in the war will be short-lived.

ON THE WARPATH

The Six Nations of the Iroquois Confederacy may not like the idea of a military draft in time of peace—some of the braves have been taken in tow by the authorities for defying the selective service law—but they do not hesitate to declare war against the enemies of the United States when America goes to bat. In fact the confederacy has not yet wholly ratified the peace following the first World War.

Peace was ratified by five of the nations, the Mohawks, the Oneidas, the Onondagas, the Cayugas and the Senecas, but the Tuscaroras still are in a state of war with Germany, dating from 1917. A clan grandmother of the Tuscaroras attached to her conditions of peace that Kaiser Wilhelm be tortured and burned because he had mistreated his captives. Her action bound the Tuscaroras to a continued state of war.

Chieftains of the confederacy are preparing a powwow to debate the current conflict and the council, the approval of which is necessary for a war declaration, is expected to assemble in a few days on the Onondaga reservation in New York, capital of the Six Nations government. There is no doubt that the confederacy will declare war again, but it is feared that it will have more trouble this time than last time in ratifying the peace.

If one clan grandmother who prevented ratification in 1919 was aroused by reports regarding the cruelty of Kaiser Wilhelm, what will be the reaction to the facts concerning the cruelty of Hitler?

tion of the messenger corps and predicted that the boys will have plenty of work within a short time.

One of the latest suggestions made in the way of civilian defense organization was mentioned by Director Paton of the messenger corps. It was called to his attention that it might be well to list all the farm horses available in the county which could be called into service in case of an emergency and used for transporting messengers with medicine in case of blocked highways. In Europe this service was organized long ago. It was suggested that the service be called the "Paul Revere Riders."

FASHION PARADE

By Orry-Kelly

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—"Two-toning" may not be a nice word to use before the ladies but it's the only one we can think of to describe the ways and means Hollywood girls are taking to make two ensembles out of one.

This might be called the sport of queens or "income tax blues" being especially commendable when every girl in the world is interested in economizing.

Olivia de Havilland recommends having at least five "aprons" this winter if you can afford only one black dress. Tied on over your best black they blend it into so many chic costumes you don't recognize yourself—nor will the steady boy friend. Olivia especially likes a black net and lace apron that she often tucks in a bag and takes to her dressing room on the Warner Studio lot where she's making "In This Our Life." She just ties the apron over her simple black frock, dons a pretty hat and is ready for those rush-to-dinners every girl is called upon to grace occasionally. Olivia tipped Bette Davis, star of the picture, to the joys of owning such magical disguises and now Bette is apron conscious too. Many of these tie-ons have harem hemlines; appear in soft or bright colors; in lavish materials. Jean Arthur has an apron of quilted black satin with pockets and long ties. She likes it best over a gray dress and one evening wore it with tunic suggestion over a slender-skirted black dinner frock.

If you'd take the advice of Rosalind Russell you'll buy five or six narrow belts, matched in style and width, mismatched in color, and wear them all at once. Rosalind sprang this clever trick on her friends one afternoon and gleamed feminine raves as the smartest girl in Hollywood. As she teared at the waistline of a burgundy wool dress as simple as Simon. Colors wore her five belts they centered in leather were made to blend in a cold rose pink, mint green, purple, yellow and dark burgundy with small gold buckles fastened one over one on the right side.

"Slues of jackets" says Alexis Smith, who is the most jacketed girl in the film colony. She loves them. Has them in jerkins, vests, cardigans, boleros, suit types and a special emphasis on the hip-length boxy type because shoes' tall and willowy. Alexis' latest trick is the purloined men's "smoking jacket"—which they never wear anyway—to top her slacks, while the same velvet jacket looks equally chic with her afternoon dresses.

This could go on indefinitely but we leave it to you to think up your own original ways of stretching a wardrobe.

THREE-LEGGED DOG

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—(INS)—Three-legged "Crip," a Spitz puppy owned by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Birch, of Roseville, is reported doing nicely despite being minus one leg. "Crip" was born in a litter of five to "Daisy" recently, and although her brothers and sisters were all normal, Crip was short one front leg. She doesn't seem to mind her affliction, however, and plays as any normal dog.

GRAND THEATRE

Entertainment in every sense of the word is what Grand Theatre patrons will find today when they see the initial showing of "One Foot in Heaven." It tells the story of a parson and his typical American family. Typical in that they laugh at the same things, share the same joys and sorrows, and have the same problems as any family, anywhere in the United States. It is a quaint, nostalgic tale containing much warm humor, with the average Midwestern small town for its background. It opens in those gay days just after the turn of the century and continues through the riotous days after the Armistice of World War I.

"One Foot in Heaven" has a grand cast featuring Fredric March and Martha Scott in the starring roles.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Brian Aherne gets his first chance to sing in pictures in "Skylark" which opened Sunday at the Bristol Theatre.

Aherne, a suave bachelor, convinces lovely Claudette Colbert that her five years of marriage to Ray Milland has been a flat affair. Milland, blind to Claudette's need for affection, gives all of his attention to his business career and doesn't think his wife is serious about a divorce until she actually obtains one. This is all the excuse Aherne needs to take Claudette off on a skylark and that's where his singing comes in.

RITZ THEATRE

Starting with a mob fight in San Francisco and winding up in a blaze of six-gun law and a roping party, "The Parson of Panamint," outdoor thriller, opened last night at the Ritz Theatre. It's a Peter B. Kyne yarn filled with action, suspense and romance.

Smashing a ruthless tourist camp racket that uses young girls as lures for travelling men, "Under Age," is slated to make its local bow today at the Ritz Theatre.

We pledge ourselves to this cause

A Statement by
The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

We make this pledge publicly to our national government and to the people of the United States:

That we will cooperate unhesitatingly in every effort of authorized government agencies to prevent unwarranted rises in prices of foods.

That we will continue our efforts to reduce the spread between prices paid to the grower and prices charged to the consumers.

That to this end we will continue to do everything in our power to assist the farmers and growers of America in the orderly marketing of their products at the fairest possible prices to them.

That we will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers, or consumers, will cause higher prices.

That we will endeavor to continue to pay our employees the highest wages and to give them the best working conditions in the grocery business generally.

That we will make every effort to continue to sell food at retail at the lowest gross margin of profit in the history of the retail grocery business.

Today we are providing food for our customers at the lowest gross profit rate in the history of the retail grocery business. This means that we have achieved efficiencies in the distribution of food never before attained. More of your food dollar goes for food and less for overhead expenses than ever before. No other great retail business in the United States in any field is operated with such a low cost of distribution.

No one in the food business can control the wholesale price of food. Only the government of the United States has power to do this, and for the protection of our people this power in the government is now a necessary power.

Today, with the nation at war, we believe that no private interest has any rights in conflict with the general public interest.

The armed forces of the United States are today receiving more and better food than ever before in our national history. It is equally important that all of our people working and living behind the lines, men, women and children, shall be better fed and better nourished than ever before in our national history.

FRANKLIN BOWS TO 5TH WARD CLUB IN LEAGUE BATTLE

Contest Practically Clinches The First Half of The League Race

FINAL SCORE IS 39 TO 30

Five-Man Zone Defense of Warders Proves Strong Point of Game

The largest crowd of the season, one which filled every available seat in the Mutual Aid court, saw the Franklin A. C. disappoint its followers by bowing to a superior Fifth Ward Sporting Club five, 39-30, in a contest which practically clinched the first half for the Warders.

The Franklin team failed to break through the five-man zone defense of the Warders, and many times lost the ball through banking on long shots instead of making short passes. The Fifth Ward team, on the other hand, played heads-up ball and took advantage of every opportunity of grabbing the sphere and breaking up the ragged defense of Franklin.

Only in the final period did Franklin appear like the team that carried it to second place in the league standing. In this quarter, Tony Palumbo broke loose to score five field goals. He had scored two in the third session to run his total to 14 points the second half.

Despite the fact that Tony found his eye in the second half, the Franklin players missed many chances of passing the ball to him, risking long shots which were a failure because the Fifth Ward zone defense kept them well in the rear of the court.

Most of the Fifth Ward scoring was done by "Willie" VanLenten, the State College boy, and "Reds" Pica, one of the leading scorers of the circuit. VanLenten did his scoring early, enough to upset the entire morale of the Franklin team. Within the first quarter, Van hung up eight of the Fifth Warders' points.

He scored from several difficult angles but was soon checked for the period. He finished with ten points during the half and 14 during the game. When VanLenten was bottled in the second half, Pica stepped into the picture to score a quintet of goal in the second half to run his total of the game to 17 points.

The triumph was the sixth straight for the Fifth Ward club which has but one more to play for the half.
